

PyCharm Professional Installation Guideline

1. Apply for a license

Please follow this link: <https://www.jetbrains.com/community/education/#students> and select the "Apply now" button.

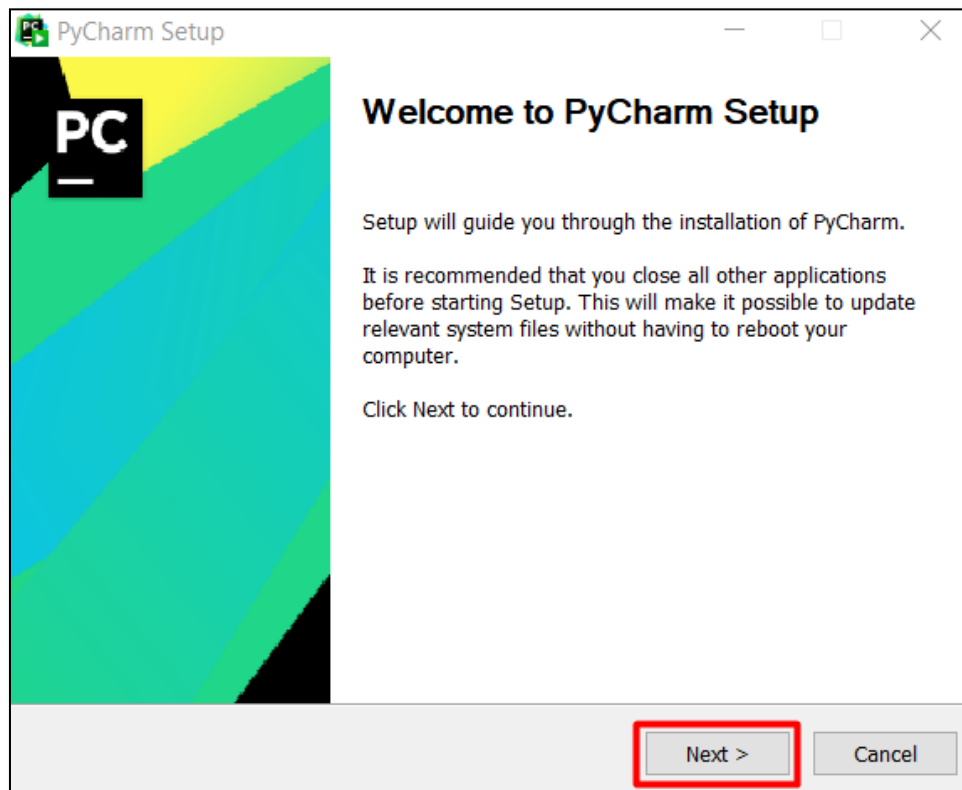

The screenshot shows the JetBrains Education website. At the top, there are three tabs: "For students and teachers" (which is selected and underlined), "For schools and universities", and "For training courses and bootcamps". Below the tabs, the main heading is "Individual licenses for students and teachers". Underneath this, it says "Get free access to all JetBrains IDEs for personal use at school or at home." followed by a section titled "Who can get free individual licenses for education". This section explains that students and faculty from accredited educational institutions are welcome to apply, and that students need to be enrolled in an accredited program. At the bottom of this section, there is a blue button labeled "Apply now" with a red arrow pointing to it from the right.

- Fill in the form that opens, and in the field "Email address", specify the student email received by SoftUni.
 - Registration will be successful after confirming your student email. You can do that by logging with your student email at office.com
 - You can find your student email address in the email that was sent to you a couple of days after the beginning of the Fundamentals course. This email contains all the licenses that Softuni provides.
- After successful registration, you can follow the email from the JetBrains link, redirecting you to the confirming page and starting your Pycharm Professional download.

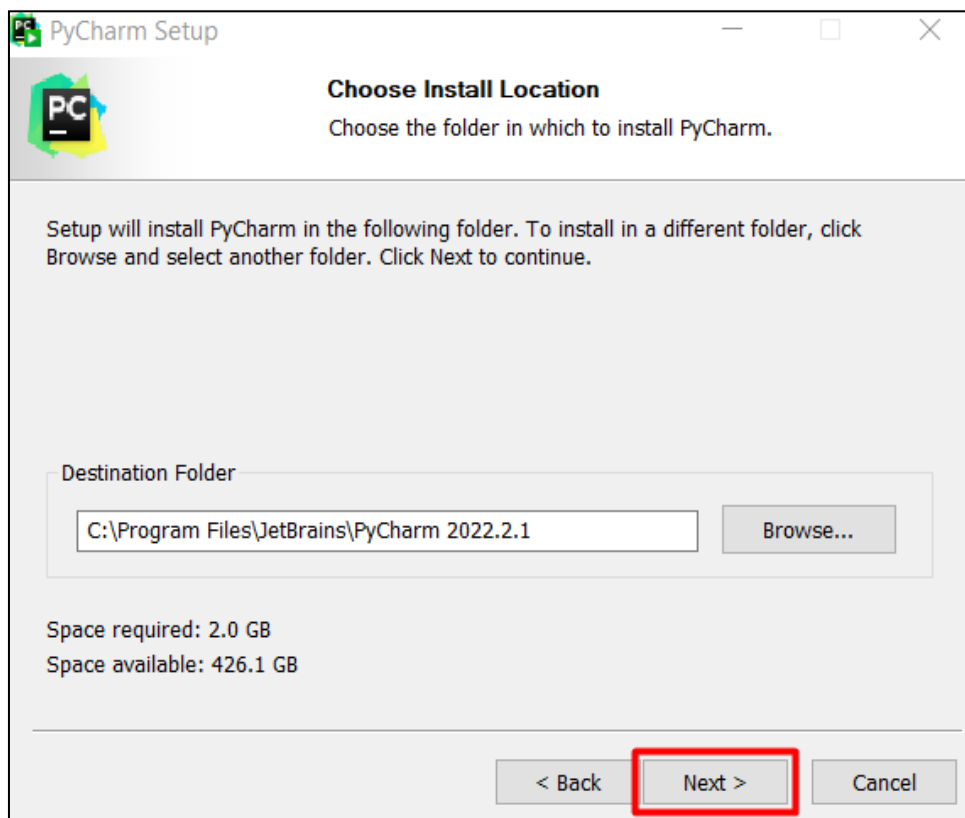

Note: The email from JetBrains will be sent to your student email.
